Clinical Studies Group Friday 18 January 2019, Bristol Zoo

Do you have a fantastic research idea you are struggling to get off the ground? This section of the clinical studies group meeting is open to all clinicians or researchers to pitch a research idea (10 slides or equivalent) to the meeting. There will be open critique and review from ED research experts and advice on potential funding streams.

We invite applicants to consider the James Lind Alliance priority setting partnership when submitting their ideas. Other research ideas are welcome for open peer and professional review.

Please submit your research on a single page in PICO format:

- P - Patient, problem or population
- I – Intervention
- C - Comparison, control or comparator
- O - Outcomes

The closing date for submission of abstracts is Thursday 8 November at 17:00. All abstracts will be reviewed, and the top scoring ones will be shortlisted for oral presentation. Applicants will receive email notifications containing a decision about their submission from Friday 30 November.

All submission forms will be discarded 3 months after the event date. The information supplied in this form will be shared with judges. Your name and email address will be kept on record for 3 years so we can contact you about the outcome of this submission and when future opportunities to submit abstracts arise. Should you wish to remove your details from our database, please email events@rcem.ac.uk
