RCEM Supports the use of Professional Leave for College Activities by Representatives of the Emergency Medicine Trainees' Association (EMTA)

The Royal College of Emergency Medicine recognises that trainee contribution and representation to the Committees and activities of the College is an integral component of effectively serving our Members and Fellows and the wider community of Emergency Medicine whilst benefiting trainees' management and broader curriculum experience.

We would ask that Departments and Trusts recognise the value of this contribution that the EMTA Representatives provide, as well as the benefits to their training and management experience, and facilitate the use of Professional Leave for such activities.
